Since the freshmen fears were over, the sophomores were able to relax and enjoy their second year in high school. Between sports, drama, and homework, we anxiously awaited getting our class rings. Picking up corn and cake raffles proved to be profitable as money raisers. The sophomores, known as the Sensations, are looking forward to the next 2 years of high school and hope to make the best of them.

As freshmen, we are not planning on doing a whole lot of things this year. Towards spring we might consider selling candy, but until then will just try to stay clear of the seniors and stay out of the teachers' hair.

Everyone envies the principal's life,
His job is the picture of ease.
He never encounters a moment of strife,
No anger, no wrath to appease.

The paperwork part of a principal's job
He considers a mere piece of cake.
At ball games, just controlling the mob
Is a joy for simplicity's sake.

The principal's role! Ah, the principal's role;
It surely is one of the best.
He gives thanks each day from the depths of his soul
As the sun rises up in the west!

PROM

Polk's 1984 Junior-Senior Prom was held at 6:30 in the Grade School Gymnasium. "Don't Look Back . . . The Best is Yet to Come" was the theme of the Banquet. Decorations were in Purple and Lavender, main attractions were a Garden Fountain in the center with a balloon bag above, a bridge decorated in lights was the entrance way, and a Wicker chair with a Fern was the setting for pictures.

The Banquet meal consisted of a choice of salads, Hamloaf, Scalloped Potatoes, Corn, Roll, and Cherry or Blueberry Cheesecake. The meal was served by sophomores, Amy Hanquist, Shelly Kroger, Sarah Lindburg, Ruel Anderson, Ed Coover, and Brent Bond.

Ruth Dose was Toastmistress, the Welcome was given by Connie Nyberg, Sheila Carlson read the Class Prophecy, Kerri Anderson wrote and read a Poem to the Seniors, Jane Johnson gave the Seniors Toast of Thanks, and Pastor Pauls led the Invocation and Benediction.

If summing up the 1983 football season in one word, "Improvement" would fit very appropriately! The Cubs started out with playoff bound Nebraska Christian, losing 63-0. Determination and the desire to win gave the Cubs the reputation of a hard hitting team that had too much "heart" to lay down and die, no matter what the circumstances were. As the season progressed the Cubs broke the lost column and defeated Hordville in a very impressive 52-32 victory. The Cubs ended the season in a hard fought battle with the Hampton Hawks, the Hawks winning 42-18.

The football squad numbers were very impressive as 25 boys participated in a year of rebuilding under a new coaching staff.

Three seniors recording their final season as a Polk Cub are Brian Tonniges, James Fisher, and Jason Redman. A big addition this year to the improvement of the Polk athletic program is the weight room, which will be used a great deal by all students.

1983 will be remembered as a successful season not only because of individual honors and success but also because of the team concept and teamwork that marked the year. Despite a midseason slump that resulted in five straight losses the team finished with a 11-7 mark and became the first volleyball team from Polk to win the district tournament. The young ladies displayed the teamwork and unselfishness that are necessary if individual honors are to be garnered. Ranging from all-state, all-tournament, all-conference and area selections the young ladies of Polk were recognized as a fine volleyball team.

The 1983-84 basketball season had excitement, pleasure and disappointment. The record of 5-12 says we had a losing season. This is not true. There were many times when players could have quit, but they never did. As a team we always fought back and learned how to become competitive. The leadership and positive attitude of our seniors was a very important part of our character development. The underclassmen can use this example in years to come. What was gained in physical and mental development makes the 1983-84 Polk Cubs winners.

The lady Cub girls Basketball Team's first game could have discouraged any team. But fifteen young ladies proved they had the determination and dedication to make a great season. The ladies finished the season with a 12-7 record and a District Championship which was the first in the history, of Polk High School. They fell one game short of going to state by losing to Rising City in the Regionals. This years team was a defensive club. Our offense was generated by our defense. What was especially enjoyable about the year was the desire to win together as a team. The team fired each other up which is very unusual in girls basketball. Because of this general unselfishness, the lady cubs went very far, not only in the season, but in life.
